

Glossary

Detailed explanation

Admission

Admission

An applicant is granted an admission to a specific course of study at a specific higher education institution. This gives the applicant the right to matriculate for the course of study at the higher education institution for the coming first semester. It is possible that, at matriculation, other certificates are needed as well as the notification of admission.

Back to last page

